MEETING HIGHLIGHTS April 09 2017

The Colleton Genealogy Society was called to order. Treasurers Report given and approved.
 Pres. Joyce Breland informed members that our guest speaker for May would not be available due to surgery. The May Program would be open for suggestions.
 Annual Colleton Genealogy Society Workshop will be held Jun 03 2017 at 10AM. Signin would be 9:30AM. .
 Pres. Joyce Breland introduced our guest speaker, Ms Norma Nichols. Ms Nichols is well known for her research on the DuBois Family.
 Ms Nichols presented a brief history of the French Huguenot movement. They were part of the Reformation movement which swept Europe, including Martin Luther in Germany and John Calvin in France. The Huguenots were badly persecuted and more than 400,000 left France. The persecution began with the Massacre of St. Bartholomew's Day Aug 24/25 1572. This massacre was led by Catherine de Medici and Roman nobles. Henry IV issued the Edict of Nantes in April of 1598 granting religious freedom to the Huguenots. This was revoked in 1685.
 The name DuBois means someone who lived in the woods. There are several spellings of DuBois such as DuBose, Du Boise, BuBoice, DuBoys, DuBosc and probably many others. The family history can be traced to the 9th century. The House of DuBois is the oldest nobility in the French Empire with a DuBois accompanying William the Conqueror of England. The family history in the United States starts with Louie in Northern France in 1626. Louie came to the United States in 1660 and settled in the Hudson River Valley with his wife and two sons. He had 8 more children.

Isaac DuBosc came to Charles in 1685/1687, He settled in Jamestown (the original settlement no longer exists). He was born in Dieppe, Normandy. His wife was Suzanne. His two sons Peter and Andrew fought with Francis Marion in the American Revolution.

Many Royal Land Grants were received by the DuBois family and can be accessed through the South Carolina Archives. Several Huguenot settlements were in Jamestown, McCormick, Abbeville and Purrysburg.

Meeting Adjourned.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

May 07 2017

Pres. Joyce Breland called the Colleton Genealogy Society meeting to order.

Treasurer's Report given and approved.

Joyce Breland announced Workshop to be held June 03 2017. Pres. Joyce Breland turned the meeting over to Dr. David Hiott who presented a very interesting and informative program on the Chain of Titles to the home he lives in on Wichman Street. Dr. Hiott gave little stories about each owner and the property which started as a three room summer cottage. The back of the house was added at a later date as was the upstairs and the façade.

In 1784 this area was known as Hickory Valley. It was a summer colony for rice planters escaping the scourge of mosquitoes. The Owners were:

- 1826 Christopher McCall
- 1826 Elizabeth Youngblood Thompson McBurney
- 1831 John D. D. and Sara S. Edward
- 1833 Jenkins and Clarissa Jones
- 1835 Rev. Henry H. and Martha Lowry Durant
- 1839 Ann Miller Cunningham
- 1841 Elizabeth Anne Horry Dent
- 1845 C. Baring Farmer
- 1861 Dr. Thomas and Sara Dent Lining

Welcoming of guests.

Events: 1. Speaker

2. Research at Colleton Genealogy Society Center

Introduction of Guest Speaker Daniel McDonald Johnson.

Topic: General Lachlan McIntosh and his family in the

Siege Of Savannah during the American Revolution

Lachlan McIntosh appointed Commander of Continental troops in Georgia Jan 1776. He was headquartered in Savannah and his wife and children remained at the family plantation in Darien. In Autumn of 1776 he moved his family to Savannah. British captured Savannah during Christmas of 1778 putting his wife Sarah and their children living in territory ruled by the enemy. Gen McIntosh hearing horrific reports and worried about his family asked George Washington to send him back to Georgia. In early July he arrived in Augusta and took command of American Forces stationed there. Lincoln ordered McIntosh to join forces outside Savannah. Lachlan McIntosh's pleas to have women and children removed from the battleground were rejected. Ordeals of the McIntosh family were recorded on a leaf of their family bible. The whole family was believed trapped in the besieged city however only five of their eight children were with Sarah in Savannah. Their oldest son John, called Jack, had left Georgia early in the war to stay with an uncle in Jamaica. The second son Lachlan, called Lackie, was an officer in the continental Army and had served with Lachlan in the Western Department. Their third son William was a captain in the Georgia Continental Brigade and was taken prisoner of war when the British captured Savannah. In Oct 1779 an assault on Savannah ended in Disaster. The French had 521 killed and wounded and the Americans suffered 231 casualties. Estimates of British casualties ranged from 16 to 40 killed and 39 to 63 wounded. In early January, the British released Lachlan McIntosh's family from British occupied Savannah. It was reported that they were thrown over to Carolina (only with clothes they were wearing) . Lachlan receiving order to report to Charleston gave his family a short time together. Lachlan knowing the British were coming took his wife and younger children to the safety of the backcountry of South Carolina and then reported back to Charleston to help defend the city from the British siege. He was taken prisoner when the British captured Charleston. Lachlan's family fled South Carolina and ended up in Virginia and stayed there until the war ended. After Lachlan was released in a prisoner of war exchange, he stayed in Philadelphia until the war ended. Lachlan returned to Georgia after the British evacuated Savannah near the end of the war. His son Lackie escorted Sarah and the younger children from Virginia toward Georgia. Lackie got sick and died in Camden at age twenty-five. Lachlan and Sarah's surviving children gave them a dozen grandchildren. Among these were John Lachlan and one named Lachlan and two granddaughters named Sarah.. You will find a more accurate outline of General Lachlan McIntosh by Daniel McDonald Johnson in the Research Center of the Colleton Genealogy Society.

All guests were then invited to the Research Center (assistance provided to help many with their research).
